

Testi del Syllabus

Resp. Did.

Matricola: null

Anno offerta:	2025/2026
Insegnamento:	2019999 - ITALIAN LANGUAGE AND CULTURE - LEVEL A1
Corso di studio:	D720 - FOUNDATION COURSE IN ENGINEERING AND SCIENCE
Anno regolamento:	2025
CFU:	6
Settore:	NN
Anno corso:	1
Periodo:	Ciclo Annuale Unico

Testi in italiano

Lingua insegnamento	English/Italian
Contenuti	Funzioni comunicative Contenuti grammaticali Cultura (riferimento) Fonetica
Testi di riferimento	Suggested Textbook: S. Bacci, M. Birello, S. Bonafaccia, M. Costa, A. Vilagrassa, C. Zambiasi, "Dai! 1", Casa delle Lingue Ed. The textbook will be supplied during class sessions; students are not required to buy a copy
Obiettivi formativi	The course is designed to prepare students to achieve proficiency in the Italian language at the A1 level, as defined by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). The instructional method adopts an integrated approach that provides learners, from the very first weeks of instruction, with the linguistic structures necessary to communicate immediately in real-life situations. Particular emphasis is placed on communicative functions, which are fostered through engaging and motivating activities focused on the authenticity of contexts, the variety of tasks, and classroom interaction. Grammar is introduced inductively, with dedicated opportunities for systematization, reinforcement, and consolidation of acquired structures. The presentation of grammatical topics follows a modular and non-linear approach. In parallel, students are introduced to aspects of Italian life and culture through a sociolinguistic analysis of various types of texts
Prerequisiti	None
Metodi didattici	Lectures
Altre informazioni	--

Modalità di verifica dell'apprendimento

Exam: Written test and oral exam. Assessment of learning is expressed as a suitability judgment (Pass/Fail); numerical grading on a thirty-point scale is not applied

Obiettivi per lo sviluppo sostenibile

Codice	Descrizione
 Testi in inglese
	English/Italian
	Funzioni comunicative Contenuti grammaticali Cultura (riferimento) Fonetica
	Suggested Textbook: S. Bacci, M. Birello, S. Bonafaccia, M. Costa, A. Vilagrassa, C. Zambiasi, "Dai! 1", Casa delle Lingue Ed. The textbook will be supplied during class sessions; students are not required to buy a copy
	The course is designed to prepare students to achieve proficiency in the Italian language at the A1 level, as defined by the Common European Framework of Reference for Languages (CEFR). The instructional method adopts an integrated approach that provides learners, from the very first weeks of instruction, with the linguistic structures necessary to communicate immediately in real-life situations. Particular emphasis is placed on communicative functions, which are fostered through engaging and motivating activities focused on the authenticity of contexts, the variety of tasks, and classroom interaction. Grammar is introduced inductively, with dedicated opportunities for systematization, reinforcement, and consolidation of acquired structures. The presentation of grammatical topics follows a modular and non-linear approach. In parallel, students are introduced to aspects of Italian life and culture through a sociolinguistic analysis of various types of texts
	None
	Lectures
	--
	Exam: Written test and oral exam. Assessment of learning is expressed as a suitability judgment (Pass/Fail); numerical grading on a thirty-point scale is not applied

Obiettivi per lo sviluppo sostenibile

Codice	Descrizione
---------------	--------------------